The Golf Classic benefits the International Center for Responsible Gaming (ICRG) and their mission to advance research, education, and awareness for responsible gaming. Registration is now open, and sponsorships and player positions are available on a first-come/first-sold basis. ICRG President Art Paikowsky said that the golf classic “has been a mainstay for the ICRG, enabling us to support ground-breaking research that will result in effective treatment and prevention and also provide the industry with the tools necessary for conducting responsible gambling strategies.”

“It has been our honor to present the Golf Classic for the last 23 years and to shine a spotlight on the ICRG’s impactful research into important topics like sports wagering, lottery, and more,” said JCM SVP of Sales, Marketing & Operations Dave Kubajak. “We are grateful to the gaming industry for their generous support, and we invite everyone to participate again this year.”

The Golf Classic attracts players and sponsors from across the gaming industry spectrum. Major sponsors include the Association of Gaming Equipment Manufacturers (AGEM), the American Gaming Association (AGA), and JCM Global. GGB Magazine is returning as media sponsor.
