JCM TRAVELS DOWN UNDER FOR AGE SHOW

LAS VEGAS (August 25, 2006) – JCM American, the industry leader in automated transaction systems, is bringing its global expertise to the upcoming Australasian Gaming Expo. The show takes place September 3-5 at the Sydney Convention & Exposition Centre in Darling Harbour, New South Wales. JCM will be in stand #233.

JCM will be showing its Intelligent Cash Box (ICB®) and Universal Bill Acceptor (UBA™). The award-winning UBA is the next generation bill validator, utilizing the latest sensing technology, including advanced optical and magnetic sensors. The UBA is completed by its forward/backward-compatible, high-impact Plastic Cash Box. The ICB system links the slot floor and the backend, increasing efficiency by reducing common human errors in casino drop and count processes.

JCM American Vice President of Gaming Solutions Tom Nieman said, “AGE is always a great show for us. And, we are excited to be back in Australia, corporate home to our friends at Aristocrat, one of the big six OEMs who has selected JCM as their preferred vendor for bill validator products.”

JCM American Corporation is the industry leader in automated transaction handling systems and provides products, software and services to the amusement, gaming, kiosk, retail, transportation and vending industries. JCM's progressive spirit continually sets worldwide industry standards with innovative and award-winning products such as the Universal Bill Acceptor (UBA™), Intelligent Cash Box (ICB®), Optipay™ cash recycling system and DMV Self-service Kiosk. JCM is a subsidiary of Osaka-based Japan Cash Machine, with subsidiaries in Düsseldorf, Hong Kong, London, Macau, and Sydney. For more information, visit www.jcm-american.com.
