Customer Notification/Tech Tips:

Seasons Greetings

2002 closes as a very successful and productive year at JCM. 2003 promises to be even more exciting as we introduce new products and services to our customers.

Our staff of over 100 dedicated employees is growing and changing in almost every department. Due to increased demand for our products as the year ends, we've increased our production lines. The Engineering Department is adding additional staff to implement new product developments, and the Customer Service Department is increasing the number of Technicians to provide more highly trained personnel to assist our customers with their Preventive Maintenance programs, and new products as they become available.

Our people are what truly make JCM successful in providing products and services to you, our valued customers. Here's a toast to a safe holiday season and a happy New Year to all.
